

The Return

We return to light the fire
Feeding off of your desire
Crushing sounds that bring you higher
In this land we are your sire

Why can't you see the trying days
And when will you stop with the words you say
Cuz our power stops the rain
Fight with the beast you can not slay
Or lay in the weeds that make you safe
But our power won't change

Pierce the earth and feel the flood
We all share a common blood
Quench a thirst from what you've done
Sacrifice for all but one

Why can't you see the trying days
And when will you stop with the words you say
Cuz our power stops the rain
Fight with the beast you can not slay
Or lay in the weeds that make you safe
But our power won't change

Oh, yeah...

Lightning strikes a raging bull
Fear of all the truth be told
Changing life from new to old
Listen not from what you're told

You can feel the trying days
And you can feel the changing the way
And you can feel the wrath I say
You can think
You can pray
You can bring back what is great
You can step in from the rain
