

We Found The Sun

Strike down the darkness of our night
Conquer their wretched souls
Fall down upon their wasted lives
Bloodshed, honor, sacrifice
All men and all creeds, decide
Now is your time to fight

Go
Fear shall not remain

Until we go into the faceless night
The evil, the fallen grace
Many have died, many have paid
Many have starved and faced their grave
But forward we go, into the unknown
Charting the way for our new home

Go
Fear shall not remain
Row, row, row, row
Life is ours again
Fear shall not remain

We're here

To the shores

We fought
We died
We lived as one
We gave it all
We rose above
So now, my tribe
Our time has come
We're free from all
We found the sun
