From the band (Mechanization) that brought you the metal standard “Mechanization” comes the next blaster to tear you apart! Here it is...the 7th offering from San Diego’s Mechanization: “Burn Into Darkness.”

UNRELENTING MELODIC DEATH METAL IS WHAT YOU SHALL FIND.

If you hail the metal gods, they demand your immediate attention toward the next level...the next evolution of metal. Let the rhythms sink into your septum; let the brutality break your bones; let the melodies crank your yanker as you enter into the sanctum of ceremonious rapture.

Despite deliberately chaotic elements, changes in tempo and groove, each song is undeniably catchy in its own fashion. Building upon the architecture of the “brutality amongst a destructively beautiful synth-laden background” model of their previous album, “Burn Into Darkness” seems to do the impossible—execute the BS-free formula without becoming derivative (or simply repeating what worked in previous efforts). This masterpiece stands alone amongst the greats.

All songs follow a well-developed and deliberate storyline, allowing the listener’s medulla oblongata to be engaged while their spine is torn through their skin and served to a dragon. Nonstop riffage, blackened soul and pitch-perfect death metal vocals will guide “Burn Into Darkness” to the top of your album of the year playlists.

Mechanization spent years experimenting and abiding by the necessary metal rituals to arrive in this very spot.

This is it; Metal Triumph!
